

Black Days for the Red, White and Blue

the press is bought and sold and lies each day told what to say and what not to say programmed by corporate screens knowing only what we've seen reality is what they say it means

these are black days for the red, white and blue
black days for the red, white and blue black days for me and you
these are black days for the red, white and blue

our government was purchased by a central bank wars are waged for profit, sold by think tanks while every serf is fighting over issues the feudal lords are providing they've stolen all, right before our eyes

these are black days for the red, white and blue
black days for the red, white and blue

they've got us controlled and divided distracted, sided, chained and divided wake up and let's send them on their way

these are black days for the red, white and blue
black days for the red, white and blue
these are black days for the red, white and blue
