

Coma Nation

we are but the healers
and the remedy is truth
the cure is freedom from the corporations we must stir the sleeping giant from its programmed saturation we must wake this coma nation wake this coma nation

from the shopping malls to the grocery stores to the TV sells they always leave you wanting more from the sex drive pills to entertainment thrills to the gossip spills what's it worth, what's it for?

from the traffic jams to the poison clams to the I got mine grins upon the chosen hams from the helpless cries to the hopeless lies the people always buy the latest scam
'cause that's the plan

floating away
changing the day
composing the play brand new

from the forests and fields knowing freedom feels filling life with zeal, openness and grace
from the pristine skies to the ocean bed lies the mask that can no longer disguise the face of truth
