

Gliding

when you go riding
and you fall again
will you go riding
back again

if you go riding
and you lose your way
will you go riding
again someday

if you start writing
and you lose the thread will you keep writing or will you quit instead

and if you stop writing will you start again will your pen and paper guide you or vanish in the end (through the turmoil to the end)

gliding
gliding
gliding home again

and if you're fighting
and never seem to win
will you keep fighting
or blow away in the wind

the candle that you're lighting may never spark a flame but the act of always striving is the meaning of the game

gliding
gliding
sliding home again
