

Jesus Corporation, North America

I won't pledge allegiance no I won't pledge allegiance I won't pledge allegiance to the Jesus Corporation, North America

I shun your faith in a corporate god I shun your mindless oath to fraud we aren't all sheep we won't be led to slaughter with your plastic flags and yellow ribbon displays we won't give up our freedoms just because you heard a voice and signed yours all away

I won't kneel down, you won't scan my tag keep your rfid chips and your prayers to the flag and your oath to the church, which is owned by the state which swears allegiance to the corporations, that determine our fate building bombs to kill and prisons of hell throwing choice and free will down an old dry well your holy book was purchased and it's hostile to your health made in china out of plastic, sold from a box store shelf

I won't pledge allegiance to the Jesus Corporation, North America
No, I won't pledge allegiance to the Jesus Corporation, North America
