

Overwhelmed

Money time duties commitments and fear anxiety and panic frustration ever near

Obligations and expectations falling short of the mark struggling, ever failing the truth is hiding in the dark

All I ever wanted
is what I've got I'm captain of my helm instead of tears I should be smiling instead of being happy
I'm overwhelmed

Around the twist
I would barely be missed instead I persist, to exist such as this, such as this

Bottles smoke and song still help me get along even though I don't belong and deep inside there's something wrong deep inside there's something wrong

is what I've got I'm the king of all my realm
instead of tears I should be smiling
instead of being happy
I'm overwhelmed
