

Puzzle Pieces

puzzle pieces partly put into their place puzzle pieces strewn and scattered every place and when it's all completed and I resolve this as my fate I'll put a frame of glass upon it and use it as a plate
I must protect my puzzle pieces from ever falling to the floor for after falling into place my puzzle pieces always fall once more

I'm a work in progress I'm a workingman it seems I haven't gotten far It's all part of the plan but don't, judge me 'til I'm finished I work whenever I can 'cause I'm a work in progress I'm workingman

puzzle pieces partly put into their place
puzzle pieces strewn and scattered every place
and when it's all completed and I resolve this as my fate I'll put a frame of glass upon it
and use it as a plate
I must protect my puzzle pieces
from ever falling to the floor
for after falling into place
my puzzle pieces always fall once more

I don't speak that kinda languish anymore
I don't suffer 'til I vanquish like before I don't wish upon the gods and think my luck will beat the odds
I don't speak that kinda languish anymore
I don't speak that kinda languish anymore

puzzle pieces strewn and scattered every place
I must protect my puzzle pieces
for after falling into place
my puzzle pieces always fall once more
