

Some Other Time, Some Other Place

I'll find someone to replace the love I had with you the love that we once knew some other time
I'll find another face
some other time, some other place

another chance, another spin perhaps this time, I'll win I'll choose the place to fall when I run into that wall and get back up again perhaps to even win another start, another spin life tossed me up and up I'm down again

I go up
you shook me up my love
I'm down again
I climbed so high
just to fall
down, down again

some other time, some other place I'll find a bond to replace, the friend that you once were how meaningless your words
some other time
we cannot replace

life tossed me up and up
I'm down again
I go up
you shook me up my love
I'm down again
I climbed so high
just to fall
down, down again
