

The Eye

you've got a right to know and it's right to know who controls the flow
look into the eye

it's not incompetence
but, overconfidence
use your common sense and look into the eye

they're looking down at you from their altitude
from the guarded view
look into the eye

they pull the marionette strings on their political things and they dictate everything
look into the eye

we know who you are
we know how much you stole we know your every plan we know evil empires always fold

how did it go so wrong
cause that's their song
the attack is long
look into the eye

they control both sides
fund the genocide
they work from the inside
look into the eye
