

There from Here

I can't seem to get there from here
I can't seem to get there from here after all the time and tears and blood and caffeine and beer what's over there is over there and what is here is always here and I remain on this, the other side, I fear
'cause I can't seem to get there from here

I can't read the road signs in time no, I can't read the road signs in time after all the curves and stops and starts and backtracking I find what's still ahead is still ahead and what's behind is still behind and I remain on this journey passed the signs that I can never read quite in time wait to fall

find ways to stall
if you wait to fall
you can have it all
if you wait to fall
you can rise above it all
if you wait to fall

after all the time and tears and blood and caffeine and beer
and I remain on this, the other side, I fear
